Executive Coaching and Corporate Training Franchise for Sale NZ Wide

We live in the best time ever to be in business. The options are endless. For FocalPoint professional business coaches, this means opportunity in all markets, all fields and competitive industries. World leaders, top executives, and sports superstars have always had trusted advisors for guidance, perspective and mentorship.

Business coaching can be applied to almost any business, yet it can only be facilitated properly and successfully by qualified coaches. A professional business coach is a relatively unique individual. The best coaches have a strong business background, are committed to their own ongoing education and are confident, amiable personalities who genuinely enjoy helping others.
